Danielle Strollo

Associate

daniellestrollo@givenspursley.com
(208) 388-1288

Danielle helps clients work through development applications with cities and counties across Idaho and provides assistance on real estate transactions.

Practice Areas

- Real Estate and Land Use

Industries

- Real Estate Development, Construction and Investment

After graduating from Dartmouth College in 2007, Danielle spent ten years in non-profit fundraising, communications, and advertising. She then decided to combine her interests in history and government by pursuing a career in the law.

During law school at the University of Idaho College of Law in Boise, she chaired the Women's Law Caucus and ultimately received the Diversity and Human Rights Award for significant contributions to the inclusive culture of the law school community. She also interned with Idaho's 4th Judicial District, the City of Meridian, the City of Boise, and the Idaho Attorney General's Division of Natural Resources. Danielle graduated cum laude in 2021, and is now building a practice helping clients secure entitlements and navigate real estate transactions.

When she is not digging through surveys and working with municipalities on development applications, she volunteers her time as a member of the Advisory Board of the Urban Land Institute (ULI) and as President of the Board of The Cabin literary non-profit. She is also the former chair of the Real Estate section of the Idaho State Bar. Rounding out her busy life, Danielle is active in a variety of political causes, participates in Idaho Women Lawyers, and walks her poodles in Idaho's amazing outdoors.

Practice Areas:

- Real Estate and Land Use

Education:

- Dartmouth College
- University of Idaho College of Law

Admissions:

- Idaho

Experience

- Intern, Fourth Judicial District Court for the State of Idaho
- Intern, City of Meridian
- Intern, City of Boise

- Intern, Idaho Attorney General's Division of Natural Resources