

Megann E. Meier

Associate

mem@givenspursley.com

(208) 388-1251

Megann is an associate who is interested in practicing across a wide range of practice areas, including land use, environmental and natural resource law, real estate, and litigation.

Practice Areas

- Administrative and Regulatory Law
- Litigation
- Road and Access Law
- Water Rights
- Real Estate and Land Use

Megann is an associate who is interested in practicing across a wide range of practice areas, including land use, environmental and natural resource law, real estate, and litigation. Before joining Givens Pursley, Megann clerked for Ada and Valley County District Court Judge Jason D. Scott. She graduated first in her class from Willamette College of Law. While in law school, Megann was a presidential scholar and member of Willamette's Law Review.

Before attending law school, Megann earned her undergraduate degree in English from Willamette University. She also spent a year teaching English in Myanmar.

When she is not working, Megann can usually be found tending to her garden, jogging along the Boise River, walking her dog, or listening to podcasts with her husband.

Education:

- Willamette College of Law
 - Presidential Scholar
 - Member of Willamette's Law Review